Dedication

"Yesterday, December 7, 1941, a date which will live in infamy, the United States of America was suddenly and deliberately attacked by naval and air forces of the Empire of Japan."

Thus, as described in President Roosevelt's war message to the United States Congress, on December 8, 1941, the United States of America was drawn into World War II. Once more the armed might of our country was massed.

To the graduates and former pupils of Clay High School, who are now serving in the armed forces of the United States, and to James L. Deter, first member of the faculty to answer his country's call, we gratefully dedicate this twelfth edition of the Crystal.

Senior Class History

It was in the year 1938 that a bewildered cast of freshmen were told that they were to take part in a four-act drama. Each was given a daily schedule of rehearsals and he began to study his lines. There were many difficulties, for these freshmen certainly were poor actors and actresses. However, the faculty of Clay High School took each player and taught him how to play his part so that the first act, in which they elected officers and student council representatives, was not entirely a "flop."

After a three month intermission, the curtain rang up on the second act of the current play, "Four Years in Clay High School." This act brought those who seemed so unimportant in the first part into a little more prominent place. No longer did they look like "green extras." They truly did look handsome in this act. They knew just what to do and when to do it. With the election of officers and Student Council representatives over, the play went on smoothly to the end of the second act.

Each act brought these players a little closer to the climax of the play. As the third opens we see them busily going about their work. Again they meet to elect class officers and Student Council representatives. Then the scene changes, and we see that they are selecting their class rings. This, as you will notice, is one of the main currents of action during the third part. We enjoy the act, and as it comes to a close we see the players giving the Junior-Senior Prom at the Toledo Yacht Club on May sixteenth, Nineteen Hundred and Forty-One. The applause after this act can be compared only to a great thunder storm.

Fanfares, bright lights and gay music precede the fourth and final act in the play. This year the actors and actresses who were so far in the background during the first act, are now the most important characters in this great four part drama. Every one else in the play steps aside to let them be in the lime light. The action in this act was more busy and interesting than in any of the three preceding ones. The characters are invited to have screen tests made by "Livingston-of-Toledo." All of the characters were pleased with the results of their tests as we can see by their exhibition of pictures, one to the other. The Prom lent a spirit of gaiety in one scene.

Slowly the scene changes from gay frivolity to solemn dignity. We hear the Valedictorian march begin, and slowly the main characters wend their way into the most thrilling climax of the play. Commencement has begun and one by one each star of the performance receives his diploma as a tribute to his fine acting.

The four important parts in this final act were taken by David Grove, president; Robert Siglow, vice-president; Ann Carstensen, secretary; and Pearl Veselka, treasurer; supported by a superb cast. The curtain closes and the play is over. There is a curtain call and the cast gives a rising vote of thanks to the faculty who have done such a fine job of directing, "Four Years in Clay High School."

Junior Class History

On September fifth, nineteen hundred and thirty-nine, the freshmen set the entrance record at 164. Class officers and student council members were chosen. The freshmen, being "green," didn't know much about school activities and therefore closed the school year without great ceremony.

The following school term we were sophisticated sophomores. That year glided away in a short time and now we are proud to be juniors.

At our first Junior Class meeting, capable class officers were chosen: Lee Ison was elected president; Edward Armstrong, vice-president; Catherine Fleitz, secretary; and Gerald Cedoz, treasurer.

Student council members included June Albertson, Edward Armstrong, Gerald Cedoz, William Heninger, Jack Widener, and Jerry Belle Vonck.

On November seventh, "Simple Simon Simple," was presented under the direction of Miss Ray.

After much delay our class rings arrived in December.

To earn money for the junior-senior prom and other activities was a great problem. Proceeds from a doughnut sale and two chapters of the movie serial aided our funds.

The junior-senior prom was held on May ninth at Calumet Temple.

We gave a farewell assembly in honor of the seniors.

We feel proud to be juniors this year and look forward to the future when we will be dignified seniors.

Sophomore Class History

One hundred and seventy-two freshmen arrived at Clay High School, ready and eager for as many new careers, on September 3, 1940. After due time had elapsed, they began to assume the duties which, as a normal high school group, were theirs to perform. The first of these was the election of officers. The tabulation of their first ballots showed the following had been elected:

President	Donna Metzger
Vice-president	James Theaker
Secretary	Eleanor Filyo
Treasurer	Mary Lou Hirzel

Student Council representatives were chosen at a similar election. The selectees were James Billings, Jean Koester, Ila Huss, and Marjorie Yost.

When the group appeared in September of 1941, many changes were evident. The timidities of a year back had disappeared, and a new spirit of self-confidence had risen to convoy the group through its second term. New officers were elected and the following interesting changes resulted:

President	John Reisner
Vice-president	John Keene
Secretary	Doris Meier
Treasurer	Alice Weidner

The new Student Council representatives were as follows: Jean Koester, Peggy Bourdo, Lyle Condon, and Ila Huss.

The sophomore year was a fairly active one. Two movies were sponsored in order to meet current expenses. Since there was a small sum left over, the group invited a speaker from Bowling Green State University to take part in one of the class programs. The talk, based on the training of drum majors, was both enlightening and entertaining.

The class is looking forward to its third year as a part of the student body of Clay High School. What the remaining two years hold for it will be met with courage and loyalty.

Freshman Class History

Bright and early on the morning of September 2, 1941, 183 bright new faces (attached to bodies, of course) poured into the halls of Clay High School. These were the freshmen who would grace the school with new beauty and knowledge. There were small ones and tall ones, slim ones and stout ones, freshmen everywhere, for this was Freshman Day.

They lived through the first week of heckling and getting used to schedules, classes, new teachers, and the strange building, then settled down to business. At their first class meeting they elected officers: Franklin Sprague, president; John Downey, vice-president; Grace Villhauer, secretary; and Shirley Preston, treasurer.

Discovering that they must raise money to pay for their cuts in the annual, they sponsored two movie chapters of the serials that have been shown weekly in the auditorium.

They have been ably assisted all through their difficult first year by their advisors, Mr. Huyck, Mr. Pyle, Miss Shultz, and Mr. Hartsook, and they will be better sophomores next year because of this.

The Bible Club was organized at the beginning of the 1941-42 school year. Their express purpose is to make the Bible a practical part in the lives of young people. They have chosen as their motto, "For the word of God and for the testimony of Jesus Christ."

There were many interesting speakers, representing many denominations of churches, yet all spoke on the one main character of the Bible, Jesus Christ.

It was a pleasure to give an Easter assembly with the Rev. N. Robert Ziemer as the speaker.

A party in the home of Miss Fassett, the advisor, and a wiener roast at Pearson Park were the social activities engaged in by the club.

3rd row—Paul Mathewson, John Reisner, Melvin Navarre, Neil Dubbs, Gerald Cedoz, Mr. Pyle, coach.

NOVEMBER 28, 1941: Clay opened her 1941-1942 basketball season by defeating Holland 26 to 16. Harrington was high for the Eagles with 13. The reserves also won, 49 to 22.

DECEMBER 5, 1941: Clay lost the second game of the season to the Lake Flyers, 14 to 8. It was one of the slowest games ever witnessed at Lake High School. The Reserves won 30 to 16.

DECEMBER 12, 1941: Clay made a come back in this game by beating Olney 39 to 25. Albertson and Harrington both had ten points for the Eagles. The reserves won their third straight game, 32 to 21.

DECEMBER 19, 1941: Clay evened her win-lose column by losing to Walbridge 35 to 41. The reserves won 25 to 16.

DECEMBER 27, 1941: Clay played Libbey as a preliminary to the T.U.-Cornell game at the Field House and lost 28 to 12.

Basketball

JANUARY 9, 1942: Clay played her first game of "42" at a return bout with Lake. We lost a close one 30 to 29. Albertson was high for Clay with 15. The reserves won 27 to 25.

JANUARY 16, 1942: Clay had her fifth loss of the season at the hands of Whitmer, 22 to 14. The reserves won their sixth straight, 22 to 21.

JANUARY 14, 1942: Clay looked better tonight, bumping Waterville, 40 to 19. Harrington was high with 16. The reserves won their seventh in a row, 30 to 11.

JANUARY 23, 1942: Clay was trounced soundly by Ottawa Hills, 49 to 26, for the sixth loss of the season. The reserves met their first defeat of the season, 36 to 20.

JANUARY 30, 1942: Clay lost the tenth game on their schedule to Perrysburg by the score of 41 to 23. Christie was high for the Eagles with 8. The reserves lost 28 to 22.

FEBRUARY 6, 1942: Clay met her third defeat in a row at Rossford, 41 to 31. The reserves were again beaten 24 to 21.

FEBRUARY 13, 1942: Clay took another pounding at the hands of Sylvania, losing 38 to 26. The reserves also lost, 35 to 25.

FEBRUARY 20, 1942: This was Alumni night. The Alumni beat the Clay varsity, 47 to 31; Clay reserves 32 to 28; and the Alumni from the Hi-Y, 22 to 20. Dubbs was high for the Alumni with 19 in the reserve game and 10 against the varsity. Harrington had 12 for Clay.

FEBRUARY 27, 1942: Clay lost her last scheduled game of the season 31 to 27 to Whitmer. Christie had 9 for the hometown boys. The Reserves made a comeback and finished their season by winning 29 to 24 with Keene getting 9 points.

MARCH 13, 1942: Clay played her first and final game of the Toledo Class "A" basketball tournament. She went down to defeat at the hands of Scott by the score of 71 to 39. MacIntosh of Scott scored 38 points for a tournament record.

During the 1941-1942 season Clay won three and lost twelve but the points scored during the season gave evidence, in general, that the scores were close. Clay scored 401 points to the opponents 512. The Reserves had better luck in winning 8 of their 13 contests.

Football

SEPTEMBER 19. Clay opened her "41" gridiron season by edging out Port Clinton 7 to 6. Beals made both the score and conversion. The game was at Clay.

SEPTEMBER 26: Clay's second game was a hard fought battle with Oak Harbor which ended in a 0 to 0 tie. At the final gun, Clay was on the six inch line.

OCTOBER 2: On the eve of October 16, the Eagles met her old rival in the personage of Rossford. We expected a hard game, but swamped the Bulldogs instead, by a score of 19 to 0. Beals came through nicely with 2 touchdowns, while Chisholm added another and one conversion.

OCTOBER 10: Clay traveled to Sylvania the 10th to experience the toughest game of the season. The battle ended in a 13 to 13 deadlock. Clay missed a good chance in the third period with the ball 1st and goal, on the 1 yard line. Beals starred with "2 pay dirt jaunts" and a conversion.

OCTOBER 17: Again on the road, Clay whipped the Ottawa Hills Bankers 21 to 6 in a fairly easy game. Scoring honors were divided, J. Billings counting for 12, Chisholm 7, Beals and D. Billings each 1.

OCTOBER 24: The third "away" game in a row was staged with Fremont St. Joseph. Although Clay outplayed the Saints throughout the game, J. Billings had to run 84 yards through left tackle for the only score.

NOVEMBER 5: On November 5, Clay played Waite Reserves in Waite bowl and came out on top by the score of 14 to 0. Chisholm accounted for both touchdowns and passed twice to Carpenter for conversions.

NOVEMBER 11: Mid the blaring of two bands and old man winter, Clay celebrated the Armistice, by winning the 3rd annual battle with Whitmer, 13 to 6. Chisholm again was hot, tearing off all 13 points, six on a blocked punt in the last quarter.

NOVEMBER 14: Clay finished her second undefeated season by drubbing Gibsonburg 27 to 0, with the freshmen contributing a lively 10 minutes. Beals made three beautiful touchdown runs, J. Billings scored once on a pass, Chisholm converted twice, and Don Billings once.

With Beals, Billings, Chisholm, and Rabbitt in the backfield, and Barlow, Hartman, Woodrich, and Fretter on the line, as senior members of the team, the Eagles finished their second undefeated season in succession. Hurrah!

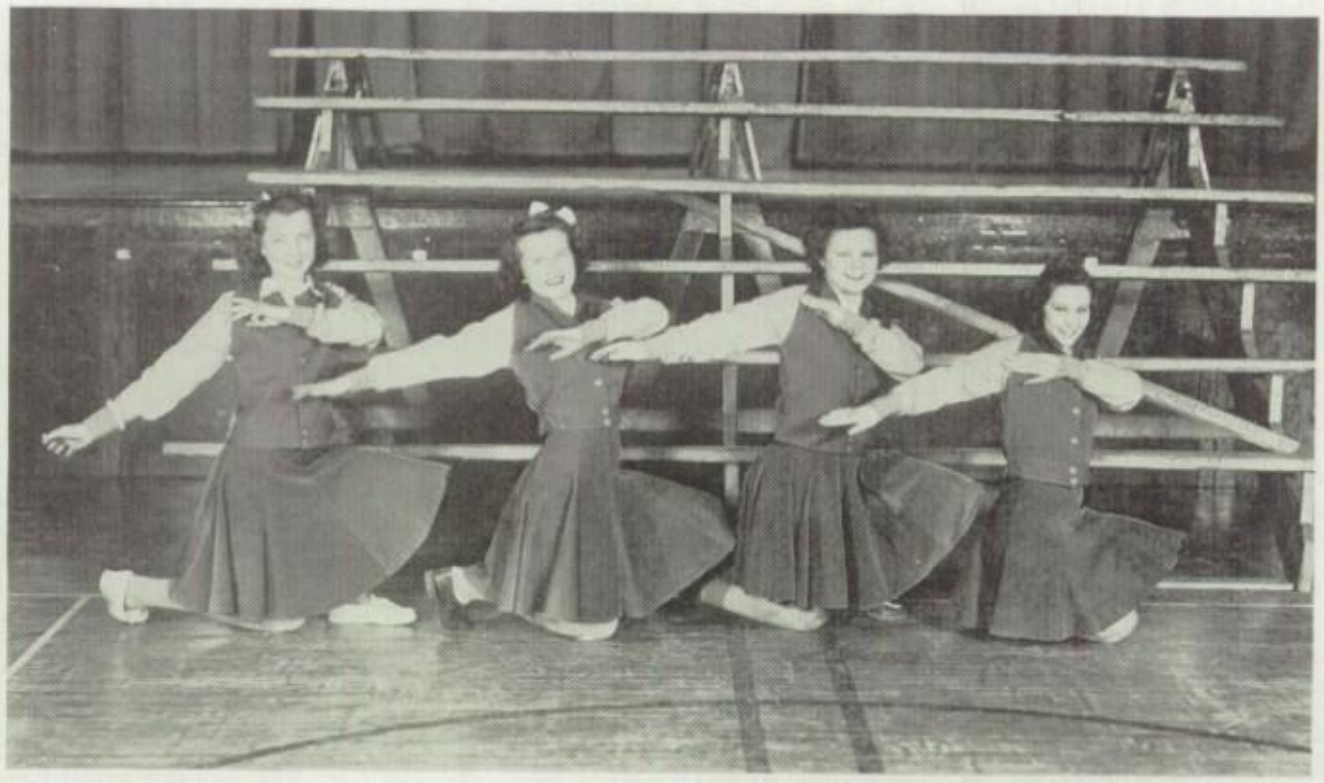
FORD ROTUNDA

Cheerleaders



Doris Jean Arnold, Katherine Wolf, Arlene Pfitzer, Patricia Bratschi.

Intramurals

Intramurals this year were managed by: Priscilla Simon, and Mildred Yost, assistant for the girls; Frank Allore, manager for the boys' intramurals.

In the fall indoor season in boys' intramurals, first place was taken by team V under the captaincy of William Moritz, and team IV, with Norman Joehlin captain, took second place. In the girls' indoor, Lucille Keeling's team V took first place. For second place, Geraldine Danner's and June Albertson's teams tied.

In girls' archery, Karis Baker and Shirley Chittenden captured first and second honors.

In intramural basketball, the third period physical ed. class led by Robert Gore took first place, and the third period class team led by Bill Blus took second.

Girls' intramural speedball: Mary Ruth Freshour's team came out in first place and Shirley Phillips' team was runner up.

1st row—Susan Jane Potter, and Joan June Hagedorn.
2nd row—Judith Lynne Huyck, Judith Ann Black, and Nancy Clapper.

The Stork Brigade

Last spring, into the homes of five faculty members, the stork deposited a "sweet little bundle." All these bits of humanity were daughters.

Joan June, Judith Ann, and Nancy have the distinction of being the first born. Susan Jane and Judith Lynn each have a brother.

Orchids

to the library staff for all the books we, the students, were able to obtain for the teachers' pleasures as well as our own.

to the Senior play cast and to its director for the fine work portrayed.

to the Glee Club, its director, and officers for their fine work. Let's have some more. Still more orchids to Dick Baxter. The University of Michigan is getting one swell fellow, and an exceedingly fine musician.

to Mr. Hartsook for his fine job of agriculture teaching and for the splendid pictures he took for the Crystal.

to Miss Hinz and her Journalism class for turning out a newspaper. Let's hope that there will be many issues to come in the future.

to the Honor Societies for teaching school. Every year should have one day set aside for this purpose.

to the girls who sold candy this year. They deserve our praise.

to the former students who think enough of their school to return occasionally for a visit. They are welcome any time.

to the person or persons responsible for the Student Council dances. They should be continued.

to Mrs. Harvey and everyone else connected with the cafeteria for the fine service they gave to the whole school.

to the office girls for all the favors bestowed to us by them. Also for all the excuses signed.

to all the class and club officers and to the committees of all the organizations. Theirs is the work which "keeps things going."

to the Mother's Club and P.T.A. for the service rendered by them to the school.

to Mr. Wallace and the football team for another undefeated season.

to the Hi-Y for collecting the waste paper for defense.

to Miss Wescotte for a capable job of substituting.

to Mr. Deter for offering his services to the U. S. Navy.

Senior Prophecy

"As Seen Through The Crystal"

Here is a prohecy told in rime,
It tells what will happen to us all in time
Some will be lawyers, doctors and teachers,
Others will be farmers, chemists, or preachers.
The first person of whom I shall tell,
Is the famed nurse Marge Campbell.
And this profession has been swelled,
By Frances MacDonald and Carolyn Held.
Pacing the hospital corridors, they labor,
Betty Tucker and Lois Felhaber.
In social work with quite a reputation,
Patchen and Lindsey, a good combination.
There are some who take to the land,
Cook, Dusseau, and Ackerman.
Others who throw oats into the bin
Are Roy Mominee and Harold Schmidlin.
And then along the marshy bank
We find the muskrat farmer, Tank.
Betty Munding has written a book,
It's in every book store, if you'll only look.
She's earning her living by her pen,
Author and critic, Ann Carstensen.
One who sees battles often fought
Is basketball coach, Irene Rought.
Huss is in the grocery business,
Art Christie is getting a degree
In the noble science called chemistry.
Grove is often on "Information Please"
His knowledge of chemistry is the key.
As a missionary to a foreign land,
Goes Charles Morrison. Let's give him a hand!
Very adept at making a dress
Is Marianne Tschann, the seamstress.
Artists of everything high and low
Are Frances Miller and Anne Alexo.
A designer of a new plastic mold,
He's quite a fellow, Lester Arnold.
Someone who watches the way the winds blow,
Is an able captain, David Barlow.
And another who likes the sea tang
For a living as a life-guard, Ernie Bilang.

Senior Prophecy

And sitting on the creek bank,
A great fisherman, George Frank.
One who knows the ins and outs,
Is a financier, Herman Pautz.
And there is a renown triller
Who is known as Marian Baymiller.
Another who sings "do, re, mi, la,"
Is that wondrous Pearl Veselka.
And of the piano there is a master
And, as you have guessed, Dick Baxter.
In high collar and black bow
We find a master of ceremonies, LaConto
Lyman Hall, oh my word, oh gee!
He signed up with N. B. C.
If you're looking for a house with an acre of land,
Warren Morrison will lend a helping hand.
And there are but very few,
Who have not heard of Jim Gladieux.
He sells tires of the make of Goodrich
Don't laugh, it rimes with Woodrich.
Glen Meyer is a famed air flyer;
She must get to bed before it is late,
Jean Fosgate gets to work at quarter of eight.
And there are two who bring cups home,
The football heroes: Beals and Chisholm,
Another in the sport profession
The baseball star, Lefty Harrington.
Don Mominee also takes a baseball prize.
Delores TenEyck asks "What size?"
Priscilla Simon is a clerk
For all sportswear she is very alert.
And another who tells the price
Goes by the name of Carolyn Brice.
In the same place is a busy buyer,
She buys furs! Esther Meyer.
In a department store, selling lockets
We find the salesgirl is Gustie Crockett.
And the botanist, Herman Brandt,
Really likes to work with plants.
Wescotte and Pfitzer work together,
As traveling salesmen they use much shoe leather.
Haven't you heard of that new horse stable?
The manager, June Parker, is very able.

Senior Prophecy

Next on the roll, snappy and droll,
Comes that well-known duo of O'Neill and Wright
And then of course we cannot slight
That other comedian, Mr. Neubrecht.
Billings watches over the pick,
Purser, an accountant knows mathematics.
Joehlin leads in politics.
What of Eula Wixsom, have you said?
She is now a teacher of physical ed.
And to all who try to hitch hike
Better look out for the cop, TenEyck.
As a policeman on the late night beat
Roy Sayen just caught a burglar with big feet.
His pockets always jingle with lots of dough
The refinery thinks much of Bob Siglow.
There is a man too busy to sit,
An auto mechanic, Armand Rabbitt.
With marriage as her chosen career
Ruth DeCant makes a success, don't fear.
When the circus comes to town
Hartman is there as a clown,
And the chief animal trainer
Gerald Thayer makes them all tamer.
Out in the West among maples, oaks, and elms,
A forest ranger, Eugene Nelms.
The editor-in-chief of "The Morning Sun"
Is one known as Dick Henderson.
A government man that collects income fee,
Is tax-collector, Wilson Murphy.
The fellow who often holds the floor
Is bank president, Robert Gore.
Behind a door with gilt-edged letter,
Sits big as you please, Lloyd Fretter.
The stenographers we do not lack,
For proof: Joan Bilang and Alice Kontak.
Jane and Jean, the Beckhusen twins
Have gone into business with genuine grins.
In an office, much praise she's won
A good secretary Mitzi Johnson.
Others who sit on the boss's knee,
Are Higley, Fisher, and Marie Garey.
And, oh me, there are some more,
Koester, Cluckey, and Naylor.
Shovel in the coal, gotta make it roll,
A hundred cars behind Engineer Groll.
Up and down the hills the trucks do purr,
For you see, Hasapes, is the driver.
Jim takes Bernice for his wife,
And they live happily throughout their life.

Through the crystal; into the future we have taken a look
May everything happen as recorded in this book.
